The Strange Case of Costello and the American People

Today's Quotation
From the towns all Inns have been driven from the villages. . . . Change your hearts, or you will lose your Inns and you will deserve to have lost them. But when you have lost your Inns, down your empty selves, for you will have lost the last of England.
—Hilaire Belloc

Last week-end Frank Costello, 61, gambler and reputed king of the American Underworld, was brought to account in federal court in New York City. The jury convicted him — quite enough — on a charge of contempt of the United States Senate.

You will recall the coincidental case of Al Capone, Costello's predecessor. Gangster, murderer, thief, Capone was convicted for none of his violence — what they got him on was a federal income tax fraud.

That such characters could cruise through a whole career of time untouched suggests that we Americans are not a very law-abiding people.

Having arrived at this way-station on our railroad journey into the Land of Thought, I'll take you on up to the next whistle-stop and propound the $64 question: Are we lawless because there are so many Americans or because there are so many laws?

You read in this column yesterday an insurance company's statement that the United States averages 7,500 homicides a year. Homicide is a parlor word for what the kitchen would call murder.

In the United States you can get up a mass meeting and a bank account at the drop of a hat for an election to "outlaw" liquor — but murder restrictions are less urgent.

And yet the entire civilized world outside the young and naive district known as America takes the old-fashioned view that however drunk a man becomes he's likely to be around the next morning with a headache — while murder is so permanent. In England and France the question of where you got that drink last night is impertinent; but if you're dead your soul has the satisfaction of knowing that in those democracies at least the government will rap on every door until justice is done.

They have few murders in England and France. Every American schoolboy knows that the London police don't even carry guns.

If I were a prohibitionist I'd want that last fact stricken out of the texts. It might set young America thinking.

Thinking such thoughts as: Let's put first things first; a nation with the highest murder rate in the civilized world is in no position to pass any kind of law until it has set its house in order — by stamping out the oldest and most despicable of crimes.

For all our churchly virtue America is on a wrong road, blighting platitudinous propaganda, ignoring the truth. The truth is we haven't the core of a civilized country even after nearly two centuries. All we've got is property and money — and if the Europeans want us to believe they are we won't have these very long either.

What was I talking about? Oh, yes — Costello — sent up for contempt of the United States Senate. What a character! What a people . . .

Mother Nature Can Do Many Strange Things

There is no doubt about it, old Mother Nature, this time with wind, can do some strange tricks. Last Saturday, Inez Cannon, East 8th St. hung an apron on a line to dry. Two hours later she took it from the line and discovered the neck and waist strings were braided together, almost perfectly. After braiding the wind tied a knot in the string.

THE LITTLE BEAR THAT BECAME FAMOUS!

They found him after a terrible forest fire in New Mexico. Just a tiny bear cub, barely a year old, he was the only one left. He was named Smokey and he is the living symbol of a great national drive to stop the shameful waste of forest fires. Won't you get behind Smokey, too, and pledge that you will be extra careful this year? Be sure to drop your cigarette, crush your cigarette, break your match, use your auto battery . . . every time. These small things are a very important part of being a good citizen — because forest fires mean death.

Gambler Costello Gets 18 Months, Fined $5000

New York, April 8 (AP)—Gambler Frank Costello was fined $5,000 and sentenced to 18 months in prison today for refusing to testify before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan who denied Costello's last minute effort to obtain a mistrial.

The sentence would be served in a federal prison.

It would be the first time Costello, with a long career as a racketeer boss, has served time behind the bars since 1915, when he spent 10 months in jail for carrying a gun.

Bell Ordered to Rebate Customers

Little Rock, April 7 (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today refused to modify its order allowing Southwestern Bell Telephone Company an annual rate increase of $3,177,000.

The refusal was made in an opinion on a petition for rehearing. In its recent original opinion setting the prolonged rate case, the court, in fixing the figure of $3,177,000 adopted the finding of Public Service Commission Chairman Scott Wood that that amount was all the company was entitled to under testimony before the PSC.

Wood had been outvoted by the other two commissioners, who authorized an increase of $3,605,591, compared to 4.6 million dollars sought by the company.

In its petition for rehearing, the company claimed Wood had reached the figure of $3,177,000 on erroneous conclusions and it asked for a recomputation of the amount of rate increase to which it was entitled.

The court said Southwestern's term should have raised this contention in its original argument and added that there was evidence to support an even smaller rate increase.

"We think the figure used by the dissenting commissioner Wood is fair and reasonable. . . ." the court said.

Today's opinion, written by Associate Justice Ed McPadden, specifically ordered that when refunds are made to subscribers they shall bear six per cent interest. Refunds will be necessary because the company has been charging on the basis of a 4.6 million dollar increase since September, 1950. The interest will be applicable from that date until time refunds are made.

This order was made on petition of a group of cities, which opposed Southwestern's application for a rate increase.

The court, however, denied the cities' application for fee for their attorneys out of the subscribers' refunds. The court said it found nothing in the record to show that the subscribers have agreed to such a fee.

Chief Justice Griffin Smith dissented from the majority opinion on two counts: He said he didn't believe the legislature had made any provision for interest payments in such cases and he thought the case should be remanded to the PSC to permit Wood "to say whether he erroneously omitted certain essentials or mistakenly included others."

Railway Express Drivers Here to Get Safety Awards

Railway Express drivers who maintained faultless driving records during 1951 will be presented with National Safety Council safety driver awards by Mayor Wilson at a ceremony Thursday, April 10th at 3 p.m. at the local Express office, Sam Andrews, agent of the Railway Express Agency announced today.

To qualify for the award under the strict rules of the National Safety Council, drivers must have caused no traffic accidents themselves nor have been involved in one which they could have prevented or avoided.

Before affiliation with the National Safety Council, Railway Express Agency conducted its own safe driving competitions and there were some drivers who have records that reach back thirty years or more to the days of the horse drawn express wagons.

Political Eyes Focus on Vote in Illinois

Chicago, April 8 (AP)—Presidential popularity contests in Illinois today drew major attention in the nation's biggest state primary election thus far this year.

Mild weather was forecast for most of the state. Election officials predicted nearly two million voters—the largest turnout in 10 years—would ballot before the polls close at 5 p.m. (CST). The polls opened at 6 a.m. The all-time record presidential primary vote in Illinois was 2,974,713 in 1936.

Four presidential aspirants who received votes in four previous primaries this year share the spotlight in today's balloting.

Another factor in the predicted big vote were hot fights by Republicans for all state offices.

In the Republican presidential preference vote, the names of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, are printed on the ballot. But there has been an unofficial, concerted drive for a write-in vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The only name on the Democratic presidential ballot is Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Reds in U. S. Taught War Is Inevitable

Los Angeles, April 8 (AP)—The American Communist party taught its members that World War III is inevitable but must be postponed until Russia is ready, said a witness at the federal conspiracy trial of 15 California party leaders.

The witness, William M. Foard, 34, a San Francisco Communist from 1945 to 1948, described under cross-examination yesterday what he learned at Communist schools and meetings. At one point he said: "We were told that the Communist party takes the position that war is inevitable at some time or other, because it will be forced by Wall Street capitalists."

"Isn't it a fact that the Communist party seeks to prevent war?" asked Defense Atty. Norman Leonard.

"Yes, but to preserve the Soviet Union, not the United States," Foard said. "We were told that war should be prevented as long as possible so the Soviet Union could rebuild its resources, and that Wall Street wanted to pounce on Russia before it had a chance to recover."

Arkansan Among Three Honored

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Three heroes of the Korean War will get Medals of Honor Friday from President Truman.

They are: Marine M-Sgt. Harold E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Wilson, Birmingham, Ala.; 1st Lt. Lloyd L. Burke of Stuttgart, Ark., and Cpl. Rodolfo P. Hernandez, Fowler, Calif.

Russell Expects Nomination

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia predicted today he will receive "no less than 320 and maybe as high as 400" first-ballot votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

With 616 votes needed to nominate, Russell told reporters: "I think I will be in a very strong position going into the convention in July."

The Georgian indicated he doubts any other candidate will muster greater first-ballot strength.

Reds May Give Up on Russia as a Neutral

Munich, Korea, April 8 (AP)—Communist negotiators hinted today they are ready to give in on Russia as a "neutral nation" to help supervise a Korean truce if the Allies would permit the Reds to repair their airfields.

The hint was indirect. It was so broad it might have been overlooked if Communist newsmen had not previously said the Reds were ready to make such a trade.

The hint came from Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang in a 3 1/2-minute session of a subcommittee of truce negotiators. He was explaining why the Reds asked the subcommittee to take the question of truce supervision out of the hands of staff officers.

Hsieh said the purpose was "to settle" the two key questions "to get."

U. N. Command negotiators took no official notice of the hint. Hsieh did not elaborate and the meeting adjourned.

Almost simultaneously with the brief meeting, Gen. Omar Bradley, speaking in Mason, Ga., said he had great hope for a peaceful settlement of the Korean War. The chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff denounced as absurd the

There Is No Doubt About It, the Greatest Coaching Job for Man Is in His Own Home

By HAL BOYLE

South Ben, Ind., April 8 (AP)—Frank Leahy of Notre Dame has eight children and a friend once told him:

"Your greatest coaching job is in your own house."

Leahy treasures that tribute. He has a theory that children as well as football players require proper training.

His theory was worked out magnificently on the gridiron. In nine years at Notre Dame his football teams have won 71 games, lost nine and tied seven.

His parental coaching seems to be working out just as well in the home. He and his pretty red-haired wife, Flossie, and their eight youngsters make a fine family team. They have five sons and two daughters ranging in age from 15-year-old Frank Jr., to seven-week-old Christopher.

"Flossie is one of eight children, and I am one of eight," said Leahy. "And before we got married we decided we'd have eight ourselves."

"I think we are the luckiest couple in America. And we're still on the offense. We'll have more children."

I had a pleasant Sunday afternoon visit with the Leahys in their big brick home at Long Beach on the south shore of Lake Michigan.

One after the other the Leahy children came in and wished me welcome, a ritual they observe with all callers.

"All Notre Dame football players are taught that when they meet a person they should look him in the eye, pronounce his name clearly, and address him as 'sir,'" said Leahy.

His children do that, too, although one of his daughters told him recently, "daddy, really, that isn't necessary for a girl to do. It's too formal."

Leahy, who is now being taught the polka by this particular daughter, grinned as he recalled her objection.

"I may be old-fashioned," he said.

Laneburg Junior Class Play Set For April 11

The Junior class of Laneburg Central High School will stage its annual play in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock, Friday night, April 11.

The play "For Pete's Sake," was written by Jay Tomlinas is a riotous comedy that will furnish plenty of laughs. The Otto Crumpler quartet will provide singing between acts.

16th Annual Sunrise Service Planned Here

The sixteenth annual community Easter Sunrise service will be held Sunday, April 13 at 8:30 a.m. in the Hope high school stadium.

The first communitywide Sunrise Service was inaugurated on March 28, 1937. Services were scheduled for the stadium but were moved indoors to the auditorium because of bad weather.

According to the program printed in the March 27 issue of the Star, the invocation was given by Danita Barnum, pastor of the Pentecostal Church with responsive reading by the Rev. V. A. Hammond of the First Christian Church.

Scripture reading was by the Rev. Thomas Brown, First Presbyterian Church and prayer by the Rev. Fred Harrison, pastor of the First Methodist Church. The Easter message was brought by the Rev. Durt Webb, Hope Gospel Tabernacle, Benediction by the Rev. W. R. Hamilton, First Baptist Church with a cornet postlude by Roy Lewis.

The 1952 Easter message will be delivered by the Rev. William F. Hardegree of the First Christian Church. A special men's chorus and the Hope High School Glee Club will sing special music.

Under sponsorship of the Hope Ministerial Alliance, arrangements are in charge of Roy Anderson, originator of the Sunrise Service.

McClellan Bill Passage Is Predicted

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Sponsors predicted certain Senate approval today of a bill to give Congress a professional staff to detect wasteful spending.

However, they conceded the measure probably will be modified to meet objections of veterans senators on the appropriations committee.

Each of the Leahy children is given certain chores and duties to perform. Every night after dinner they and their parents say the family rosary together.

"About every two weeks I line them up and grade them on five points — neatness, courtesy, respectfulness, co-operation and unselfishness," Frank said. "The winner gets an extra allowance."

"They enjoy the competition and I believe it makes them better."

As to punishment, the Leahy household has one flat rule: "If you've done something wrong and come and tell us, there'll be no hairbrushing."

The hairbrush is the instrument of discipline and Frank wields it.

"The spankings happen only once in a great, great while," he said, smiling. "It works better now to ration their rights to watch television."

The Leahy home-coaching system may sound formal and old-fashioned, but it works wonderfully well. His children are happy, spontaneous, and secure. Frank is very affectionate toward them. As I started to leave, he turned to 5-year-old Jimmy and said:

"Jimmy, will you tell us your favorite wish?"

Red-haired Jimmy looked up and piped:

"I wish the whole world would pop up to Heaven!"

He thinks he's got the greatest dad and mom in the whole world. So do the other Leahy kids. And the reason is that the whole family prays, plays and works together, the way old-fashioned families used to do when having eight kids wasn't such a rarity.

The Leahys want to have as many children as they can. As another friend of Frank's once observed:

"He never was one to hold down the score."

U.S. Set to Take Over Steel Industry; Little Change in Other Strikes

PROTEST—In an attempt to stop the government from spending $25,000,000 to dam a small river near their home in Pocahontas, Ark., these farmers, accompanied by a larger delegation, leave for Washington where they will protest to the Rivers and Harbors Board.

Bankers to Discuss Farm Credit Here

Arkansas bankers will hold a farm credit conference in Hope on April 15 at the Barlow Hotel. This is one of a series of five farm credit clinics to be held at various points throughout the state during the week of April 14 to 18.

The Arkansas Bankers Association, under the guidance of W. F. Pierce, vice president, Darnett State Bank, chairman of the association, agriculture committee, and Jeff Burnett, who is secretary of the association, have planned these meetings for the purpose of discussing "Commercial Bank Credit for Arkansas farmers."

The University of Arkansas, Extension Service and the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis are cooperating in carrying out the program.

The changing type of agriculture in Arkansas has brought about definite changes in credit requirements and credit techniques. The program will be featured by a panel discussion relating to these changing credit conditions. Panel members will consist of two bankers, one county agricultural agent, and one selected farmer, with Ray E. Miller, Agricultural Relations Federal Reserve Bank, St. Louis, acting as moderator.

J. W. Bellamy Jr., president, National Bank of Commerce, Pine Bluff, and president of the Arkansas Bankers Association, will preside at the meetings. Economist T. E. Atkinson, of the Agricultural Extension Service and W. F. Pierce, agricultural committee chairman, will be principal speakers. Those who will appear on the panel are as follows:

W. C. Blewster, president of the First National Bank, Magnolia.

Syd McMath, vice president of the First National Bank, Hope.

Ethan A. Hansen, Howard County Agent, Nashville.

John J. Wilson, farmer, Columbus.

Wage disputes have idled about 4,000 employees and shut down construction at the government's multi-million-dollar project in Pine Bluff still is on.

AFL Carpenters, Joiners and Millwrights and AFL Hodcarriers and Construction Laborers were picketing the job. Reported orders by union officials to the workers to go back Monday went unheeded. The carpenters were said to have struck in a jurisdictional dispute.

The supervising U. S. Engineers said the laborers struck because they hadn't received requested pay raises still pending before the Wage Stabilization Board.

Wage disputes have idled about 4,000 workers at the Crossett, Ark., Lumber Company and 300 at the Dixie Cub plant in Ft. Smith.

Time Running Out to Insure Cotton Crop

Hempstead County Cotton Producers are being advised by the County PMA office that the opportunity to protect their investment in producing cotton with an all risk Federal Crop Insurance policy will soon end.

Thursday, April 10 is the last day that farmers in the county can apply. In order to give every interested producer an opportunity to sign an application or get answers to any last minute questions regarding this low cost protection of the cotton crop investment, the County PMA Office has arranged for sales agents in some of the important cotton producing communities.

They are J. G. Prescott and Cleve A. Hamilton of McCaskill and Guy H. Hicks of Washington, Ark. The county PMA office will also be open from 9:00 o'clock A. M. to 5:00 P. M. each day, Monday through Friday, for the convenience of producers desiring information on the program.

Farmers may also sign their application at the county office, Room 100, Courthouse, Hope, Ark., from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day.

Insurance will be in effect from April 1 to September 1.

Arkansas Gets Reprieve From Picketing

By The Associated Press
Arkansas today (Tuesday) got a temporary reprieve from a possible long-distance telephone tie-up when striking equipment installers decided to hold off picketing of exchanges.

The striking Western Electric employees originally were scheduled to begin picketing exchanges today, but switched signals last night.

Jack Breashear, Arkansas vice president of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said the picket lines would be established Wednesday instead. He refused to elaborate on the change of plans.

Apparently only the larger Arkansas exchanges will be picketed since there aren't enough strikers in the state to patrol all exchanges.

"About 100 WE employees were on strike," Breashear said. The company said 47 employees were on strike, but Breashear said he was counting those working in Missouri and Oklahoma but using Little Rock for headquarters.

A twin walkout which has idled more than 4,000 employees and shut down construction at the government's multi-million-dollar project in Pine Bluff still is on.

AFL Carpenters, Joiners and Millwrights and AFL Hodcarriers and Construction Laborers were picketing the job. Reported orders by union officials to the workers to go back Monday went unheeded. The carpenters were said to have struck in a jurisdictional dispute.

Wage disputes have idled about 4,000 workers at the Crossett, Ark., Lumber Company and 300 at the Dixie Cub plant in Ft. Smith.

Both entered pleas of not guilty of charges of hunting ducks illegally.

Wants Funds to Enforce Law

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap has called on Congress to provide money to enforce the new gambling tax law or repeal the law immediately.

In fact, Dunlap said, the federal tax system is collapsing, and he is pleading for a $100 million increase through the tax law to enforce payment.

Hopes Dim to Avert Walkout; One Plant Closed

Washington, April 8 (AP)—The Commerce Department today reported ready to operate strike-threatened steel industry, but the event President Truman's aides on government seizure.

Officials gave this word to reporters today on the heels of public disclosure the President had asked Secretary of Commerce Stephen M. Harkness to investigate a Midwestern steel plant return here immediately.

These officials said neither orders have been drafted for the plant's signature.

Hopes in official quarters presently had been all but abandoned for a settlement in the industry wage dispute with the CIO steel workers union.

However, there apparently has been no definite decision to seize the industry.

New York, April 8 (AP)—Striking CIO communications workers here causing low delays to telephone service across the nation, but a union official says picketing will multiply the jams starting tomorrow.

Coupled with a Western Union strike, now in its sixth day, selective stoppage of telephone lines would leave a large number of quick long distance communication.

Pittsburgh, April 8 (AP)—An area's great steel industry rushed toward a complete shutdown today. Government, industry and laborers held out today, but avert a definite crippling at the stroke of midnight.

Webb, Part 1, "Neighboring in Japan," was given by Mrs. Graydon Anthony, part 2, "The Child as the World's Best Hope for Peace," by Mrs. Ralph Smith, part 3, "They Put a Parson on a Payroll," by Mrs. J. M. Houston. The meeting was dismissed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Twenty members and three guests Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Keeley and Danny, were present.

Mrs. Edwin Ward Hostess to Circle 1 of WSCS
Circle 1 of WSCS with Mrs. Homer Hill as leader met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Ward Monday afternoon with Mrs. Dale Wilson as co-hostess. Mrs. Hill conducted the business meeting during which time a study of the Book of Acts was planned. Mrs. R. T. White gave the devotional in the form of an Easter message. Mrs. A. B. Patton presented the program and was assisted by Mrs. C. D. Lester who discussed resolutions and plans laid down by the conference WSCS

Fight Looms Over Custody of Child

Los Angeles, April 8 (AP)—Another court battle is brewing over custody of the 3-year-old daughter of Actress Selene Walters and her former husband, Dr. Alfred G. Rueger.

Miss Walters, now in New York, was awarded custody after a bitter legal dispute following the couple's divorce in 1948.

Yesterday the actress' mother, Mrs. Florence Throop, who has been caring for the child, charged that Rueger had taken her away without permission last Thursday. The court returned the child to the grandmother pending a hearing on her petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

'Tom Fool' Liked for Derby Bid

New York, April 8 (AP) — New York racing fans have seen Tom Fool as a 3 year-old in action and they liked what they saw.

Greentree's bay son of Menow, one of the prime favorites for the Kentucky derby, made his season debut at Jamaica yesterday and did what was asked of him.

With Ted Atkinson waving the whip alongside his head to keep him honest, Tom Fool led all the way in winning the six-furlong. He paid $3.60. The Starmount Stable's Primate was second, another neck in front of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Cousin. Primate and Cousin also are Derby eligibles.

Tom Fool's time of 1:12.2 under 129 pounds for the three-quarters was nothing to shout about but the manner in which he ran made an impression. He jumped into an early lead, twice shook off challenges by Primate and was in front all the way down the stretch with Atkinson just waving the bat by his head.

"He did everything as though he enjoyed it," said Atkinson. "I hit him twice just to keep him in his mind. He pulled up with his ears pricking."

State Fighter Sets AAU Record

Boston, April 8 (AP) — Charles Reeves, an iron-fisted light heavyweight from North Little Rock, Ark., flattened Kenneth House of Amsterdam, N. Y., in 36 seconds of the first round to register the fastest knockout in trial bouts of the National AAU Boxing Tournament here yesterday.

Three other members of the Arkansas team, who saw action, lost decisions.

Johnny Palmer, Columbus, O., defeated Subby Valenti, Ft. Smith, in the 119 pound class; John Barnes, Detroit, beat Sonny Jenkins, Canaway, Ark., in the 130 pound class; and Clifton Bradley, Philadelphia, defeated J. W. Gore, Burdette, Ark., in the 125 pound division.

Not even a series of close losses to the Cleveland Indians had shaken their confidence a particle. Durocher, a hard loser, was grumbling about his catchers calling for wayward pitches at critical times, but that was all. Leo always was a hit-or-miss pitcher, they said.

And then came Denver, a week ago tomorrow. Monte Irvin, the club's most valuable player and possibly its most popular, slid into third and fractured his ankle so that the bones protruded through the skin. As the Negro slugger was carried from the field, you knew you had witnessed the death of a baseball club.

An unbroken silence settled over the Giants bench and they played out the final seven innings as though they were in a trance. Several days later they felt numb. They were men who not only had

Cleveland Gets Nod in National Loop

By JOE REICHLER

New York, April 8 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians failed to win the pennant last year despite baseball's strongest pitching staff because they won only seven out of 22 games from New York and only one out of 11 at Yankee Stadium.

They figure to get even better pitching this year which probably means more victories against the Yankees.

Thus, in the opinion of the writer, should bring a flag to Manager Al Lopez and his revenge-minded Cleveland club.

The American League race should be strictly a two-team affair between the Yankees and Indians. The Yankees have a better balanced club, a stronger attack and a slicker defensive unit. But the Indians have the pitchers to carry their players. If Bob Lemon had enjoyed a normal year, Cleveland could have won the '51 flag.

Lemon, a 20-game winner for three straight seasons, barely broke even with a 17-14 last year. His brilliant work in the exhibitions indicate he may again head the mighty staff that includes Bob Feller 22-3, Mike Garcia and Harry Wynn (both with 20-13 records).

It's mighty difficult picking against the world champion Yankees, who have a habit of rising to the occasion, winning the big games and making the right play at the proper time. They are a bunch that never wilt under pressure and rarely beat themselves.

As in previous years, they have a fine looking rookie crop boasting such fledglings as Third Baseman Andy Carey, Outfielder Bob Cerv and Pitcher Harry Schaeffer. And they have Casey Stengel, one of the shrewdest of managers.

So why should they lose? This writer, who picked them to win last year, thinks the Yanks will miss Joe DiMaggio more than any one expects. They should also miss the fine second base playing of Gerry Coleman, and their bench may suffer from the loss of third baseman and pinch hitter de Luse Bobby Brown. Also, it is not at all certain that pitching stars Vic Raschi (21-10), Ed Lopat (21-9) and Allie Reynolds (17-8) will perform as brilliantly as they did last year. Reynolds is 34, Raschi and Lopat both 35.

No other team has the strength or depth to make a real run for the flag. The hustling Chicago White Sox, strengthened by General Manager Frank Lane's judicious trades during the winter, should pull away from Detroit and Boston to gain third place. The Tigers will be tough because of Pitchers Art Houtteman, Virgil Trucks and Ted Gray. The Red Sox, crippled by the loss of Ted Williams to the service and the retirement of Bobby Doerr, may finish out of the first division for the first time since 1945.

The writer picks the teams to finish this way:

1. Cleveland.
2. New York.
3. Chicago.
4. Detroit.
5. Boston.
6. St. Louis.
7. Philadelphia.
8. Washington.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION
Little Rock, April 7 (AP) — State Sen. Dewitt Poe, McGeehee, today filed as a candidate for re-election. He seeks the 21st district office. The district comprises Desha and Drew counties.

Many peoples of the world have no idea that property of a dead person can or should be distributed according to his will.

and came back looking for the photographers.

The $650 Tom Fool picked up boosted his earnings to $162,640. His record shows six first and two seconds in eight starts.

Primate and Cousin, although beaten, lost little stature, especially the Vanderbilt colt. It was the first start of the year for both.

The Starmount Derby hopeful forced the pace and was running well at the end while Cousin came from sixth place to get into the money.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, April 8 (AP) — A week ago today as we were traveling across the Western states with a pennant-bound ball club, the New York Giants. It seems a long time ago.

If ever a team exuded class and confidence, the Giants did. They had what it took and there wasn't a man on the roster, from Manager Leo Durocher down, who didn't know it. There was great pleasure in traveling from city to city with as happy an outfit as the Giants were.

Not even a series of close losses to the Cleveland Indians had shaken their confidence a particle. Durocher, a hard loser, was grumbling about his catchers calling for wayward pitches at critical times, but that was all. Leo always was a hit-or-miss pitcher, they said.

And then came Denver, a week ago tomorrow. Monte Irvin, the club's most valuable player and possibly its most popular, slid into third and fractured his ankle so that the bones protruded through the skin. As the Negro slugger was carried from the field, you knew you had witnessed the death of a baseball club.

An unbroken silence settled over the Giants bench and they played out the final seven innings as though they were in a trance. Several days later they felt numb. They were men who not only had seen a friend painfully hurt, but had at the same time seen perhaps $6,000 in pieces disappear into thin air.

The stricken athletes had few words to say as they returned to their hotel by bus. You would say, "Tough," and they would humbly "yawn." There were no smiles and the usual banter was all gone as they climbed aboard their special train for the next long haul to Wichita, Kan. Fortunately it rained steadily all the next day, or the Wichita fans would have witnessed a sad exhibition.

No one knew better than Durocher. The little manager made no effort to conceal his anguish nor said anything about maybe winning without Monte when he told news-men of his emergency plan to return Bob Thomson to the outfield.

It seemed a lot longer than five days ago when Leo said that his pretty wife, Lorraine Day, had told him to get on his knees and pray.

It is not possible to compare any disaster which ever befall another club to that which struck the Giants. There have been other worse injuries, even death, but none which almost as surely cost them a championship. It was a painful thing to have witnessed and will not soon be forgotten.

Medal Winner Overwhelmed by Honor

Stuttgart, April 7 (AP)—Frederick L. Lloyd L. Burke said today he was overwhelmed to learn he is to be awarded the Medal of Honor
— the nation's highest decoration for military bravery.
"It's the greatest thing that ever happened to me," said the brown-haired, blue-eyed Arkansan.
It will be the fifth decoration he has earned in Korea. He holds the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star, the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star.
He said his wife, 2-year-old son, Gary, mother and three sisters will accompany him to Washington
Thursday, where he will be awarded the Medal of Honor on Friday.
Burke is the first Arkansan to win the Medal of Honor in Korea.
Since his return here Feb. 20,

the young officer has been getting reacquainted with his son, who was 7-month-old when Burke left for Korea. His wife, Virginia, is a fifth grade school teacher and the lieutenant has been babysitting during the daytime while his wife was working. As soon as the school term ends, she and Gary will join Burke at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he has been assigned when his leave is completed.
Burke said he expected to report to the Army's Infantry Center at Ft. Benning about April 14.
What about the future? Burke said he intends to remain in the Army and hopes to soon add another silver bar to his shoulder, designating the rank of captain.
He first enlisted in the Army in 1943, spent three years as a combat engineer and was discharged in 1946 with the rank of buck sergeant. He married and was an insurance agent for a year. He then completed his education at Henderson State College at Arkadelphia, Ark., where he was an honor cadet and won a reserve commission.
He and his wife were graduated in the same class.

Negro Schools Get Greater Share

Little Rock, April 8 (AP)—Substandard school plants house more than 142,000 Arkansas school children.
This statement was made yesterday to a congressional subcommittee by state Education Commissioner A. B. Bonds Jr.
Bonds, in a letter to the Committee which is considering a bill for federal construction aid, said Arkansas has made "herculean efforts" to adequately house its school children. But, he added, it has been impossible economically to meet all needs.
Bonds recommended that state education departments not be hypothesized if federal construction funds are appropriated.
Meanwhile, one of his assistants,

A. W. Ford, said that the average annual expenditure in Arkansas per Negro school child was increased 75 per cent in the past three years.
Ford said the total expenditure per Negro child last year was $82, compared to $47 in 1947-48.
The expenditure per white child was $132 last year and $147 in 1947-48, Ford said. This was a reduction of 10 per cent.

Says Ike Has Asked for Release

Paris, April 8 (AP)—Officers at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters here today seemed to think the general has asked to be released from his post as supreme Allied commander in Europe, although no
one wanted to be quoted.
Officially, there was no comment on a report published in the New York Times that a letter from Eisenhower, asking for his release, is en route to Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett in Washington.

"If and when any such letter were sent, any comment on its contents would obviously come from Washington," said a SHAPE public relations officer.

They insist on staying young!

International Trucks are engineered to stay young in spite of the toughest hauling conditions.

They are built that way because our 45 years of heavy-duty truck building experience proves it pays. That's why more than half of all the International Trucks ever built are still making money for their owners.
That's why Internationals give you the kind of young-truck performance you want.

If you are considering a new truck, why not stop in soon.

You can't beat these International pickup truck exclusives:

- Silver Diamond valve-in-head engine built in the world's largest truck engine plant.
- The "roomiest, most comfortable cab on the road"—the Comfo-Vision Cab—designed by drivers for drivers.
- Super-steering system—more positive control, easier handling, 37° turning angle.
- Nine models—GVW ratings, 4,200 to 8,600 pounds. 6½,
8 and 9-ft. bodies, 115, 127, 134-in. wheelbases.
- The traditional truck toughness that has kept International first in heavy-duty truck sales for 20 straight years.
- America's largest exclusive truck service organization.
